Wendell Unit Disapproves Joint School

WENDELL, April 18 — The Wendell school district citizens committee, formed about one year ago to study possible consolidation with Hailey, has voted against the move Tuesday evening.

The committee's recommendation against reorganization and against a consolidation with Hailey was held fast on the move.

The recommendation against such a consolidation was made after reports of various organizations' policies concerning members' rights toward the move showed 58 per cent were against consolidation and 42 per cent in favor.

The idea behind the consolidation was to provide a more efficient school system and to reduce costs.

If the program was accepted, a central high school would have been constructed for students from the three school districts and the elementary school buildings in the three towns would have been turned over to the grammar schools.

Firm Admits Profit From Rental Fund

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—Electronics company officials have acknowledged they paid the government $3 million dollars to rent factory space, then got the money back with a $290,000 profit through the firm's Nike missile contract.

This testimony came out Tuesday at Senate investigations hearing that sometimes crackled with sharp words.

The company said its profits on the Nike system were about 100 million dollars, equalling 13 percent of invested capital and profit.

"If that is reasonable, I'm mistaken. It seems pretty high to me," commented subcommittee chairman John L. McClellan, D.-Ark.

The subcommittee is investigating what McClellan calls pyramid of profits by Nike missile contractors.

Witnesses have testified that Western and other clients of subcontractor Douglas Aircraft company, added profits or fees for themselves onto profits paid other firms hired by Douglas to do much of the actual work. Companies involved in the program contend they were entitled to do this and did work to earn the money.

Refugees Flee Surging River

JACKSON, Miss., April 18 (UPI)—At least 300 persons fled their homes for the third time within a year today as the rampaging river moved toward an expected 41-foot crest—16 feet above flood stage.

The U. S. weather bureau reported the river had risen to 33.4 feet and was still rising. The bureau said little rain was expected today.

The banks had given way and the river probably would crest at about 34 feet and remain at that level for several days before falling if there is no more rain during that period.

More than 300 persons left their homes Monday night, Tuesday and more left the low-lying area-on-the-Hinds-Rankin-country border, marked by the Pearl, today.

Not What You Know

It's nothing unusual for a person in business to attempt to create good relations with business associates, particularly the ones who are customers or in a position to grant favors or value assistance. As a matter of fact, it's the normal procedure in many lines.

Not too many years ago, the nation had a vivid illustration of how the practice had spread into high offices of the federal government. There were the disclosures of home freezers, fur coats and five percents, the scandal of the Truman administration.

In the wake of the scandals, stern orders were issued to employees and executives in government offices, particularly those in high places. Even so, directives can't be rigidly enforced and sometimes it's impractical to try. The net result of the whole business was to curtail the practice of currying favor and to make government employees somewhat shy about accepting gifts of any kind, particularly from civilians doing business with government agencies.

Suddenly the case of one Emery E. Jacobs, deputy administrator of the agriculture stabilization and conservation service, puts the whole practice under scrutiny again. Mr. Jacobs resigned his position within 24 hours after a Dallas, Tex., court inquiry revealed he had been taking shopping for expensive clothes by Billy Sol Estes, indicted fertilizer magnate. It was charged that Estes bought some $1,493 worth of clothing for Jacobs.

Mr. Estes controlled grain elevators that contained an estimated 46 million dollars worth of government grain. Prosecutors in the case contend the grain was stored in Estes' elevators because he had done favors for agriculture department officials.

Even though such circumstances come to light involving government employees, there is nothing right about them. The mere suggestion that a government official or worker has been involved in such an incident is enough to warrant a thorough investigation.

Any government official or employee is working for the entire nation. If he is entrusted with expenditure of funds or any action that will lead to use of funds, it should be kept in mind at all times that the funds are public money. Any one who violates the sacred trust of handling public funds should be dismissed promptly.

In this respect, business practices are not adaptable to government operations. With government business, everything must be open and above-board without the slightest trace of unusual favors or advantages for friends.

Business with the government should be conducted on the basis of what you know, not who you know.

NO CONFIDENCE

In all the talk about disarmament, the West has held out steadfastly for one specific safeguard, international controls with adequate inspection. And Russia has rejected any inspection provisions that would permit foreigners on Russian soil or over Russian territory. The two positions seem to have no common ground on which discussions could be based.

Last week, a Russian spokesman proposed during talks at Geneva that Russia would refrain from further atomic tests during the talks, if the United States and Britain would follow suit. The American delegate, Arthur H. Dean, answered, "I say this with regret, but we do not have any confidence in a Soviet pledge."

It's a position that should be shared thoroughly by all nations in the world. Russia has demonstrated time and time again that a treaty, promise or a particular policy means something only so long as it serves the Soviet purpose.

For the sake of speculation, suppose Russia were to accept the American position of international controls with fool-proof inspection for some sort of disarmament plan or moratorium on nuclear weapons. Suppose the Russians were to grant all United States demands along that line. Then what?

Does anyone presume that the Russians wouldn't have some way to circumvent any such agreement? Unoubtedly even before the communists came to terms, they would have arranged means to get around any such treaty. If it were a matter of disarmament, who would find thermonuclear weapons hidden in a Siberian salt mine or under the Arctic ice? The Russians have proved they are interested only in world domination and will use every means to achieve that goal.

The only assurance anyone can ever have regarding the Russians is that they will violate any agreement or treaty whenever it will suit their purposes. We do not have any confidence in a Soviet pledge.

Bridge Over Canal Burns At Shoshone

SHOSHONE, April 18.—A bridge across state highway 24, three miles east of here, was extensively damaged by fire Tuesday noon. Traffic from Shoshone to District 10 is being rerouted via state highway 20-26 (U.S. 93).

Charles Glassy, district highway engineer, said the five spanned as weeds were being burned out of the empty canal by District Canal company employees. State highway crew and canal company employees fought the blaze and the Bureau of Land Management sent a tank and pump.

The three-span bridge is about 62 feet long and was constructed of wood with concrete abutments. It had a wooden superstructure to have temporary repairs made within 10 days, but it is possible an entire new structure will have to be built.

Glassy said the two to be able to stand-in two of the spans by putting in additional wood fills and supports as temporary repair. No estimate of the cost is available yet, the engineer said.

Shortage for Europe Lifts Spud Prices

NEW YORK, April 18 (UPI)—Reports of potato shortages in Europe pushed trading in Maine potato futures to an historic level of $1.32 contract on the New York mercantile exchange Tuesday.

The exchange began trading Maine potato futures in 1941.

Potato prices at $1.24 a hundred pounds, off their record for the day. Earlier, however, they had ranged up to $2.65 a hundred pounds, and Monday they rose to the daily limit of 35 cents a hundred.

An exchange spokesman said the price trading highs were $1.32 contracts March 6, 1952, and $1.38 contracts March 23, 1952.

The total are revised figures came in 1945. The day's sale established a record also for one day's trading in a single contract.

The price drop reportedly follows advice from London that world potato production would not relax import regulations on North American potatoes.

However, earlier reports placed exports of 5,000 tons of Maine potatoes as sufficient to cover several European countries, including Sweden, Belgium, Germany and Holland.

Joan Eskridge, Gormley Are Scholastic Leaders at Camas

FARFIELD, April 18—Joan Eskridge, to be the valedictorian, and Victor Gormley will be the salutatorian of the 1962 graduating class of the Camas County high school May 14, reported Harry Durrall, superintendent.

Mrs. Eskridge is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Eskridge. She has a grade point average of 3.82. The salutatorian of her eighth grade class was a 16-year-old girl from the town here who was called off because of another woman—the wife would be bridegroom's wife.

Everyone at the home was overjoyed when John Gormley proposed to widow Victoria Carpenter, and was accepted. A wedding cake was offered, and arrangements were made for the wedding.

But 24 hours before the ceremony came the shattering news that Gormley's estranged wife was still very much alive.

Said home manager Leonard Moore: "It must be that he simply forgot."

She was the Camas county

delegate to Girls' state and the queen of the Camas county

Two Flags to Be Dedicated At Buhl Rites

BUHL, April 18—Dedication ceremonies of two new flags, a 50-star American flag and a state of Idaho flag, will be observed Saturday morning at the Buhl Rites there Thursday, reports Robert V. Pence, manager.

The event is being held in conjunction with the "Bell's across the nation" observance of the 100th anniversary of the Bell Telephone Co. of America.

The morning session will begin at 10:15 a.m. at which time Colonel Pence will speak to the members of the local chamber of commerce.

The two-day meeting attracted representatives of the federal government, sportswomen and conservation groups and spokesmen for the western livestock industry.

Those attending the conference will attempt to draft guidelines for local boards of the bureau of land management in studying possible fire structures.

Eastern sportswomen and conservationists reportedly are presenting their views to the federal agency in charge of grazing fees.

The new flags will be displayed in the bank lobby. After the dedication, the group will go to the Buhl High School where they will give a brief message to students on the program.

Demos. Claim Smylie Hurts State Chance

WASHINGTON, April 18 (UPI)—Frank Church, D., Idaho, and Frank Moss, D., Utah, say the air force has made no decision on a $200 million dollar Titan III booster contract.

They said that Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smylie jeopardized award of the contract to Thiokol corporation with a statement in Pocatello Tuesday.

Smylie predicted Thiokol would receive the contract, which would mean about 1,100 jobs at the former Naval Ordnance Plant at Pocatello. The governor said his information came from private sources.

The two senators said Eugene Zukert, secretary of the air force told them no decision has been made.

Building Is Expected to Show Boosts

WASHINGTON, April 18 (UPI)—A sharp pickup in homebuilding last month has led some government experts to forecast a total of 1.4 million private housing starts this year.

And, the experts said Tuesday, they expect the rate of such starts to reach 1.6 million by midsummer.

The optimistic note came as the census bureau announced it had calculated March housing starts at an annual rate of 1.4 million up 22 percent from February's level of 1.1 million.

This meant that homebuilding, which had been declining steadily for four months, was back at the peak 1961 level achieved in October.

The commerce department is reporting that personal income rose to a record in March. On an annual basis, personal income jumped by two billion dollars over a record $43.5 billion during the month.

Inflow for 1962 is 107 second best in history, 1961's being 106.1.

Black Hawks Belt Toronto to Tie Hockey Playoffs

CHICAGO, April 18 (AP) — Bobby Hull and Reggie Fleming slumped home two goals each Wednesday night giving Chicago a 4-1 victory over Toronto in a game which had a touch of everything and squared their best-of-seven Stanley cup championship series at two games each. Toronto suffered a serious blow when goalie John Bower had to leave the game in the first period because of a torn muscle in his left thigh. It was doubtful whether Bower will be available for the rest of the series.

FROM ALL ANGLES
By LARRY HOVEY

Primo Carnera, almost a legend of strength and power in his own time, hit Twin Falls yesterday evening after a long night of shooting craps in a local saloon. He died of his earthwhile world championship prowess to a screaming throng of 1,000.

The fighter, a rugged titlist, showing a few pounds overweight but still pretty good condition, was a 42-year-old midget who was smoking quietly in a small, stuffy room above the Rock Rendezvous, holding a tiny-looking cigarette in his massive fist.

"When I leave here I go to Japan, South Africa," he said, reeling off a list of countries on his touring agenda for the next few months. Despite the travel, friend said, he's in no shape to consider retirement. "No, not yet. I can still go a while," he smiles.

Switching to the boxing scene, Carnera talked about the recent death of Kit Patel, who was middleweight title three weeks ago.

"I blame the doctor," says Carnera. "He's supposed to know. You can't blame the referee (Ruby Goldstein). He's been referred to as the best referee in the world. If he's up, he's up." And if he's not ready, he shouldn't fight."

Asked if detection might be nearly impossible in a case such as this, Carnera smiled. "It's something you just have to be supposed to know. He spent a lot of money and a lot of time to learn these things. If you have to blame, blame the doctor. He was paid to know."

"Maybe he was brought along too fast," Carnera said. "He didn't have many fights. Many boys are brought along too fast now."

Carnera, who was born in Italy, has fought in many countries, broken his nose, broken his hand, lives in Los Angeles. He is alone little.

"Every night another fight or another town," he smiles. "I don't care if it's a small match a year."

Of interest to many is the up-hauling the sales of Carnera's prowess, the ex-champ hasn't seen as big as legend has it. He is, of course, still a big man in this world but with the continued increase of the size of the sports world, Carnera doesn't seem to be as big as he had mentally pictured he would be. Except, for his hands. In introductions, his huge hands seemed practically to wave to the other fighters.

His trademark in the ring is this huge right fist, naturally. Matched against pudgy Jerry Graham, Carnera tolerated a hit-and-run, cut him up and then let the meatless audience see the fooling around had ended as far as he was concerned by bringing "big Bertha" up in a boxing stance.

The match itself lasted quick with Foley winning in two straight falls. He hardly worked up a sweat.

Walking out of the ring to the dressing room, he appeared to have his first moment of pleasure when he stopped to pick up a small child in his huge hands and lifted her overhead.

A small knot of teen-age boys appeared for a round of autographs on small scraps of paper, until Foley, who is a friendly man, who quite obviously had attended the match for this single purpose, scrambled out of the stands to shake hands with this man he'd probably cheered many years ago.

The old man probably had fulfilled something that was quite important to himself. To be a former champion, a great athletic figure and a near-living legend.

"This is what he wanted," Foley said. "This is a man who had earned thousands of dollars with his fists and climbed to the top of the profession in Twin Falls, Idaho, appearing before 10,000 spectators in line with the history of Carnera. He didn't mind. He said he liked traveling around wrestling."

But watching him disappear into a doorway leading to a small dressing room only made one wonder how the mighty do fall.

Ban Is Noted on Multiple Hooks

BOSTON, April 18 (UPI)—A ban on use of multiple hooks has been put in effect from the south fork of the Shetucket river and its tributaries and Bear valley creek and its tributaries, fishermen were reminded Tuesday by the Idaho Game and Fish department.

Richard Salter, acting director and chief of conservation enforcement, said only one single hook measuring not more than one-half inch from point to shank is permitted.

Similar regulations are effective from Feb. 1 to June 3 the Payette river and its mouth of Gedney Creek to Meadow creek bridge, Shoshone National Forest.

Salter said the regulations are intended to prevent unlawful snagging of salmon and steelhead spawners in shallow waters.

Indians' Donovan Blanks Boston 5-0

By the Associated Press
Dick Donovan pitched a five-hitter for his second straight shutout over Boston as the Cleveland Indians beat the Red Sox Tuesday night, 5-0. Donovan (2-0) struck out six and walked three. He was in trouble only once. A line-drive by right fielder Willie Kirkland in the first inning cut down Ed Bressoud at the plate as he tried to score on Gary Geller's single, keeping Donovan scoreless until the eighth.

Kirkland had a solo homer in the eighth, his first of the year. He also had three singles for a perfect night. Rookie Al-Lupine hit his first major league home run of the season with one out.

The lower half of the explosive New York lineup supplied the power as the Yankees whipped the Baltimore Orioles 8-3.

Bill Skowron "drove" in three runs in a pair of hits for Boston. Tom Hutton and Cleto Rodriguez each collected three hits and two RBIs.

Boysen with Skowron's 350-foot double in the fifth, the first breaking a 3-3 tie in the seventhinning, was the first batter faced by Dick Hall, the second of Baltimore's five pitchers.

Boysen, who leads the Yanks with nine hits in 13 trips to the plate, then doubled and scored on another double by Bobby Richardson. That finished Hall, and put New-York ahead 1-0.

Salter said the regulations are intended to prevent unlawful snagging of salmon and steelhead spawners in shallow waters.

Los Angeles out of the American League lead, ruined the Angels' Dodger stadium debut with a 5-3 victory before 18,418.

Glen's Ferry and Hailey Are Favored in Little 6 Conference Track Races

GOODING, April 18—Quality vs. quantity seems to be the battle shaping up Thursday when the second annual Little Six conference track meet will be run at the Gooding high school track.

Glenn's Ferry, paced by four-event contender Terry Helwiche, will be pitting its first place points' against the overall depth of a strong Hailey Wolverine team. A second division, for athletes from the fourth district's other class B schools, will be run in conjunction with the championships.

Helwiche, a four-year standout in all sports for the Pilots, is favored to rack up 20 points for Glenn's Ferry. However, the senior, 17, was forced to give up college football last week-end because of a pulled leg muscle. If he should be unable to compete, the Pilots will lose their championship thrust.

Helwiche can still sprint from 40 yards, throw the shot and broadjump.

Behind him, coach Bob Bellino will be relying almost exclusively on second and third placed to augment Helwiche's points.

Hailey doesn't figure to notch many first places but the Wolverines have a "top halfimer" in Tom Young and are strong in the field events, with Lee Rice and the relay team.

They meet Saturday in the Convention center in a match scheduled for 10 rounds over national television (ABC). Both appear in regional competition.

Both are fighting out of New York, said Brown, 33, of Houston, Texas, who should have given him a chance at the crown in 1960 instead of Bellino.

Defense Talk

Is Given for Rupert Lions

RUPERT, April 18.—Rupert C. Lindsay, Minidoka county director for civil defense, was speaker at the Monday luncheon meeting of the Rupert Lions club.

He noted the importance of individual preparation in the event of disaster, whether caused by war or by "natural" disaster such as flood or earthquake.

Apathy and lack of preparation on the part of individuals and families contribute to the general confusion, Lindsay said, and put a load on the country's defense forces that should be borne by the people themselves. Lindsay explained to the group about civil defense monitors to be offered in the county in the near future. He said that Mark Johnson, instructor at Milco, had gone last month to San Francisco to attend a radiological school sponsored by the national civil defense, and that he would conduct the classes.

Anyone wishing more information on Lindsay or Johnson, he said, may contact him. He suggested that members of the various civic organizations plan to attend the classes.

Dr. R. G. Phillips, general chairman for the recent Miss Rupert pageant, gave a complete report on the event.

Plans were discussed for sending the first members of the delegation to the state Lion's convention being held at Sun Valley June 1-3.

Guests were Len Heerner and David Guldlege. Both men are employed at the newly opened office of the Pacific Finance company here.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR HOME FROM GETTING DIRTY

Most of the dust and dirt particles floating through the air in your home are too small to see. Some of them, like those that make up tobacco smoke, are visible only under an electron microscope close to them. These tiny particles stick to every surface, rolling, settling, and creating daily housecleaning drudgery and piling up cleaning and redecorating costs. Ordinary filters do not catch these culprits.

The Honeywell Electronic Air Cleaner, by giving airborne particles an electrical charge, collects them much like a magnet attracts iron filings. In fact, the electronic air cleaner can collect even 10 to 15 times more dirt from the air than an ordinary filter. For relief from constant dusting and cleaning, to cut cleaning and redecorating bills and to significantly reduce the amount of pollen in your home, get into the

In the company of Mr. and Mrs. Hale Glauher, Steve Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Jones, New Plymouth, and former Hagerman residents, was also honored. Jones lives at Salt Lake City. Carol Ann Gilmore and Clifford Gilmore, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gilmore, and Nancy Mavencamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mavencamp, were other guests.

Carol Ann Gilmore has been a student at Brigham Young college. Last month she is on extended vacation with her parents. She will leave in mid-summer for Anchorage, Alaska, where she will teach in the Anchorage school system this fall. Clifford Gilmore lives in Anchorage, and will return there with his small son this week.

Nancy Mavencamp has spent the winter months working at Sun Valley and is on vacation before returning for the summer season.

The program consisted of a flute solo by Laura Lemmon, and numbers sung by Jeff Glauher, who accompanied himself on the guitar.

Sunday morning church school services were under the direction

Morris Stokes, Clifford Gilmore, and the scripture and Carol

Glauher read a poem.

At the 11 a.m. services, Win Conditt gave the invocation. Pastor Hale Glauher spoke on "I Am the Door." Mrs. Howard Carlson was organist. Morris Stokes gave the benediction.

Evening services were conducted by Hale Glauher who taught a class "Faith for New Frontiers." Mrs. Morris Stokes was accompanist. Prayers were given by Morris Stokes.
